HEAD OF HOUSE OF ROTHSCHILD DEAD

Senior Member of Family of Famous Financiers Passes
Away in Paris.

SINKING FOR MANY DAYS

Known Widely for Immense
Wealth and Lavish Charities.

History of Family.

(By Associated Press.)

PARIS, May 26.—Baron Alphonse de Rothschild, head of the French branch of the banking house bearing the name of Rothschild, and governor of the Bank of France, died at 4:30 this morning from acute bronchitis, aggravated by gout.

The eminent financier had been sinking slowly for many days, but there was no apprehension that his death was imminent. He passed away this morning peacefully, surrounded by his family.

The announcement of the Baron's death position in the financial world Baron Alphonse was known for his lavish charities caused widespread regret, for besides his homes. The Baron, who was born in 1827, was succeeded as head of the house, one of the latest being the gift of $20,000 for the erection of workmen's houses in the city of Paris.

Baron Alphonse was a man of the world, and his death was a great loss to the French-American house said: "Baron Alphonse was the leading spirit of the Rothschild family in their relations with practically all the governments of Europe. Besides the financial work of managing the industry which France paid to Germany after the Franco-German war of 1870-71, he actively carried on relations with other governments. In Italy these included both the government and the Vatican. In Russia he was also active in considerable dealings with American securities through the Belmonts, J. Pierpont Morgan and John W. Gates, including Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line transaction, and his extensive interests in mines in California."

Baron Alphonse leaves two children, Baron Edouard and Baroness Beatrice. He has two surviving brothers, Baron Gustav and Baron Edmond.
